Perfil

Bilingual Full Stack Developer with training in technologies such as JavaScript, React, Python, and Flask, certified by 4Geeks Academy. I combine solid technical skills with previous experience in administrative and human resources roles, where I developed key competencies such as organization, attention to detail, and adaptability. My ability to adapt to multicultural environments and my collaborative approach allow me to contribute to diverse teams, driving innovative and efficient solutions. I am seeking opportunities to continue growing in web development, applying my passion for technology and commitment to excellence
